

NEW YORK (AP)—Because of the danger of street traffic, 8-year-old Frederick Meyers' mother had told him to play in the back yard of their Brooklyn home.

Playing cowboy, he stood on a wicker basket, tied a clothesline to the framework of a swing and put a noose around his neck.

The basket caved in and the boy dropped.

A police squad applied artificial respiration for an hour but could not revive him.

Two Officers Slain, Crazy Man Accused

Ex-Mental Patient Wounded As Police Win In Gun Battle

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP)—Two Pawtucket detectives were shot to death Monday when they invaded a dwelling to arrest a heavily armed former mental patient.

Det. Lt. Thomas Truesdale, 58, and Det. Emil Newberg, 36, were shot as they tried to seize Robert Genereux, 35, who had barricaded himself in a bathroom of his mother's home near busy Route 1.

Police said Genereux fired several shots from a German Luger pistol through the bathroom door when the two officers ordered him to surrender.

Truesdale was shot in the lung. Newberg was shot in the stomach. They died at Rhode Island Hospital.

The five-hour siege of the house started about noon after police received reports Genereux had fired two shots through the wall of a vacant tenement next door to his home Sunday night and was heavily armed.

His mother, Mrs. Adrienne Mitchell, about 65, left the house before the shooting occurred. Earlier reports said she had been held captive by her son.

After the two detectives were shot, some 40 policemen surrounded the three-story tenement house and raked the first floor, where Genereux lived, with machine gun and tear gas.

Genereux was seized by police Capt. Joseph E. McAlvey and Det. James E. Brennan, who shot their way into the bathroom where he had barricaded himself in a closet. He was armed with the pistol when taken.

Genereux was hospitalized with head wounds apparently inflicted when he was subdued. His condition was not serious.

Youth Arrested, Stolen N. Y. Bus Located In Iowa

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—Ollie Wilson, 19, of the Bronx, N. Y., was thinking about anything but a busman's holiday as he pondered his fate in the county jail today.

The ex-navyman was arrested near here Monday, still sitting behind the wheel of the $42,000 bus he took from the Port of Authority bus terminal parking lot in New York Sunday.

A highway patrolman spotted the 41-passenger, air-conditioned vehicle stuck in a ditch on Highway 20 near Farley, Iowa. Authorities quoted Wilson as saying he took the bus to get to California.

Yacht Leaves For U.S. Bomb Testing Zone

HONOLULU (AP)—The pacifist yacht Phoenix headed for the American H-bomb test area Monday and its skipper told the Coast Guard he intended to sail into the forbidden zone.

Navy headquarters here reported the skipper, Earle L. Reynolds, declared his intention to a Coast Guard cutter which hailed the yacht 100 miles east of the danger area and warned him against entering.

The latest report by the Navy placed the 50-foot Phoenix less than 100 miles from the prohibited area and about a day's sailing time away.

The Navy said the Phoenix is under surveillance but gave no hint what action it plans.

The Phoenix left Honolulu June 11. Reynolds, who is opposed to nuclear tests, gave Hiroshima as his ultimate destination.

He said, before departure, that he would take a course on the latitude of Eniwetok where the United States now is conducting nuclear tests.

With him are his wife, son, daughter, and a Japanese crew member.

Reynolds told a reporter at Honolulu: "I regard any interference on the high seas an act of piracy. They will have to sink me to take me."

Alaska Bill

send the bill to the Senate Armed Services Committee for study of its defense implications; defeated 67-16 a move by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC) to eliminate the northern and western sections of Alaska from the new state, and rejected by voice vote a second Thurmond proposal to require congressional concurrence before the President could make defense withdrawals permitted under the bill.

On the final vote, 31 Democrats and 33 Republicans lined up to support Alaska's bid for admission. Thirteen Democrats and seven Republicans opposed the bill.

Still ahead are votes by Alaskans on accepting immediate statehood, approving state boundaries as set out in the bill and on provisions permitting the President to make national defense withdrawals in the northwest section of the state. Defeat of any one of these propositions would reject statehood.

Big City Banks Strained As Gold Shipped Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—The flow of gold from the United States to other lands—mostly to Great Britain, Japan and The Netherlands—can put big city banks in a bind. And of late that's adding to the Federal Reserve Board's task of keeping money easy instead of tight.

Some 1½ billion dollars from the U.S. gold hoard have gone overseas since the start of the year. Much of that outgo has meant at least a temporary drop in deposits for these banks, and hence a loss of reserves available for making loans. That is one reason the Federal Reserve has just made its largest purchase of U.S. Treasury 91-day bills in two years to relieve the strain on the big banks.

The board's official position is that it's glad friendly nations can build up their depleted gold reserves. But practically, it has had to counteract the flow so that the banks have plenty of money to lend during the recession. Otherwise the slump might start snowballing.

This is the way the flow of gold affects the U.S. banking system: The largest share of non-communist held gold is in the United States. Central banks of other nations have the right to buy it at $35 an ounce, although American citizens do not.

When other nations get their hands on dollars through international trade they frequently deposit them with either U.S. commercial banks or with the Federal Reserve banks, or they buy up U.S. commercial banks, or they buy up U.S. Treasury securities.

When yields on these securities dropped, foreign holders sold them, deposited the dollars in the banks and then used these deposits to buy gold from the U.S. Treasury through the Federal Reserve system.

The net result is to lower the total of bank deposits. This cuts bank reserves with the Federal

Goldfine Likely To Set Off Hearing Fireworks

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Waiting for Bernard Goldfine to testify is like waiting for the launching of a satellite: The results of both are unpredictable.

This fast-talking, gift-giving millionaire friend of presidential assistant Sherman Adams is due to testify Wednesday before a House subcommittee looking into his relations with Adams and with government regulatory agencies.

Washington, long used to having spectacular individuals appear before committees, has a special air of expectancy about Boston businessman Goldfine.

He talks rapidly and volubly, and seems to throw around expensive gifts and favors to men in political office or positions of political power.

Quoted By "Time"

Time magazine last month quoted him as saying that when someone like him has problems: "Who do you go to? Why, you go to your congressman or your senator or to your governor, not to some schmoe."

The Washington Post in a special story from Boston Sunday—outlining the efforts of Goldfine's lawyers to drill him for his appearance here—gave a pretty clear impression he's hard man to handle, even by his own law.

One of them was quoted as saying: "He will make a terrible witness. He's hard of hearing and he doesn't answer questions well. He's not good with words. 'It is constitutionally impossible for him to give a simple answer. You can't tell what will happen when he gets on the stand.'"

Even Goldfine's actions appear unpredictable. He had a date with his lawyers at noon, the Post said, and showed up at 6 p. m. The next night he didn't show up at all.

Adams has said he let Goldfine pay hotel bills for him, amounting to more than $2,000, and before the same subcommittee said he had received vicuna cloth for a coat and the loan of an expensive Oriental rug from Goldfine.

Adams described all this as part of a personal and friendly relationship extending back for years. Goldfine, who came to this country a poor immigrant, seems from other testimony before the subcommittee, to have spread a lot of money and a lot of favors in a lot of places.

For example: Gov. Lane Dwinell, a former political associate of Adams, says Goldfine gave a suit of clothes to every governor in the nation at the 1955 Governor's Conference.

Sent Cloth To Ike

And John Fox, former publisher of the now defunct Boston Post, said he borrowed $400,000 from Goldfine. Goldfine even sent a bolt of cloth to President Eisenhower whose press secretary, James Hagerly, said Eisenhower gave it away.

The subcommittee subpoenaed Goldfine's companies' records, going back to 1925, and any records of money he spent on state or federal employees going back to 1950. What isn't known yet is whether—or how—the subcommittee will try to dig into Goldfine's income tax returns to see:

1. Whether the money he spent on gifts for political figures like Adams were considered by him to be just friendly gifts, as Adams says he considered them, or—

2. Whether Goldfine actually considered them business expenses and so deducted them from his income tax returns.

Employment Shows Rise

BALTIMORE (AP) — Employment in Maryland during May climbed over the million mark for the first time this year, but there were 41,100 more persons out of work than in the same month of 1957.

Figures released by the State Department of Employment Security yesterday showed unemployment dropped 6,700 during May and employment rose 13,000. The unemployment drop was the first of the year, while jobs increased for the fourth straight month.

Total employment in the state reached 1,008,800 in May compared with 995,800 in April, but still 25,200 below the total for May 1957.

The number of jobless during the month dropped to 79,300 as against 86,000 in April. In May 1957 the unemployment figure was 38,200.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

U. N. Can Answer

THE DISPATCH of a United Nations police force to Lebanon appeals to many free world sources as a sensible next step in the crisis there which now menaces the whole Middle East. The U. N. observers already in Lebanon cannot by themselves have any real hope of sealing the Lebanon-Syria border, across which pours the principal Nasser-inspired aid to the anti-government forces. In fact, the observers have not been permitted to inspect the most critical arms-running zones. Neither their presence nor Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's visit to Beirut and Cairo appear to have curbed the conflict.

BOTH THE UNITED States and Britain are determined not to stand by and watch President Nasser of the United Arab Republic topple other Arab lands into his camp one by one. But they and others must hope that Nasser's military plot against Lebanon, thinly disguised as a full-fledged native rebellion, can be halted by the U. N. For either or both to move in support of the Lebanese government without U. N. sanction would perhaps effectively quell the uprising but might easily inflame the entire Arab world against the West as never before. If, however, the mounting evidence of Nasser's intervention is spread out for all to see, there can be no reasonable objection from law-abiding, peace-loving nations to the employment of a U. N. force to stop that invasion. Russia's threat to counter any such action cannot be allowed to impede the coordinate efforts of the U. N.'s responsible members. Its Security Council veto can be bypassed by recourse to the General Assembly. In voicing its threat, the Kremlin said it would regard any movement of U. N. units into Lebanon as "aggression." The men in Moscow perhaps did not realize how fantastic that would sound.

THEY ARE TELLING the U. N., an agency set up to promote the peace and discourage aggression, that it cannot act in support of those principles without itself being guilty of aggression. They are also saying that this agency of more than 80 members is no more than an appendage of the West, though its ranks embrace all continents, creeds and colors. Has Russia detached itself from the United Nations? And does it imagine, in its self-imposed isolation, that it can tell the whole non-Communist world it dare not move to preserve peace in a troubled land, for fear of Red reprisals? The United Nations can give answer to this dangerous fancy, and its reply should be firm and unequivocal.

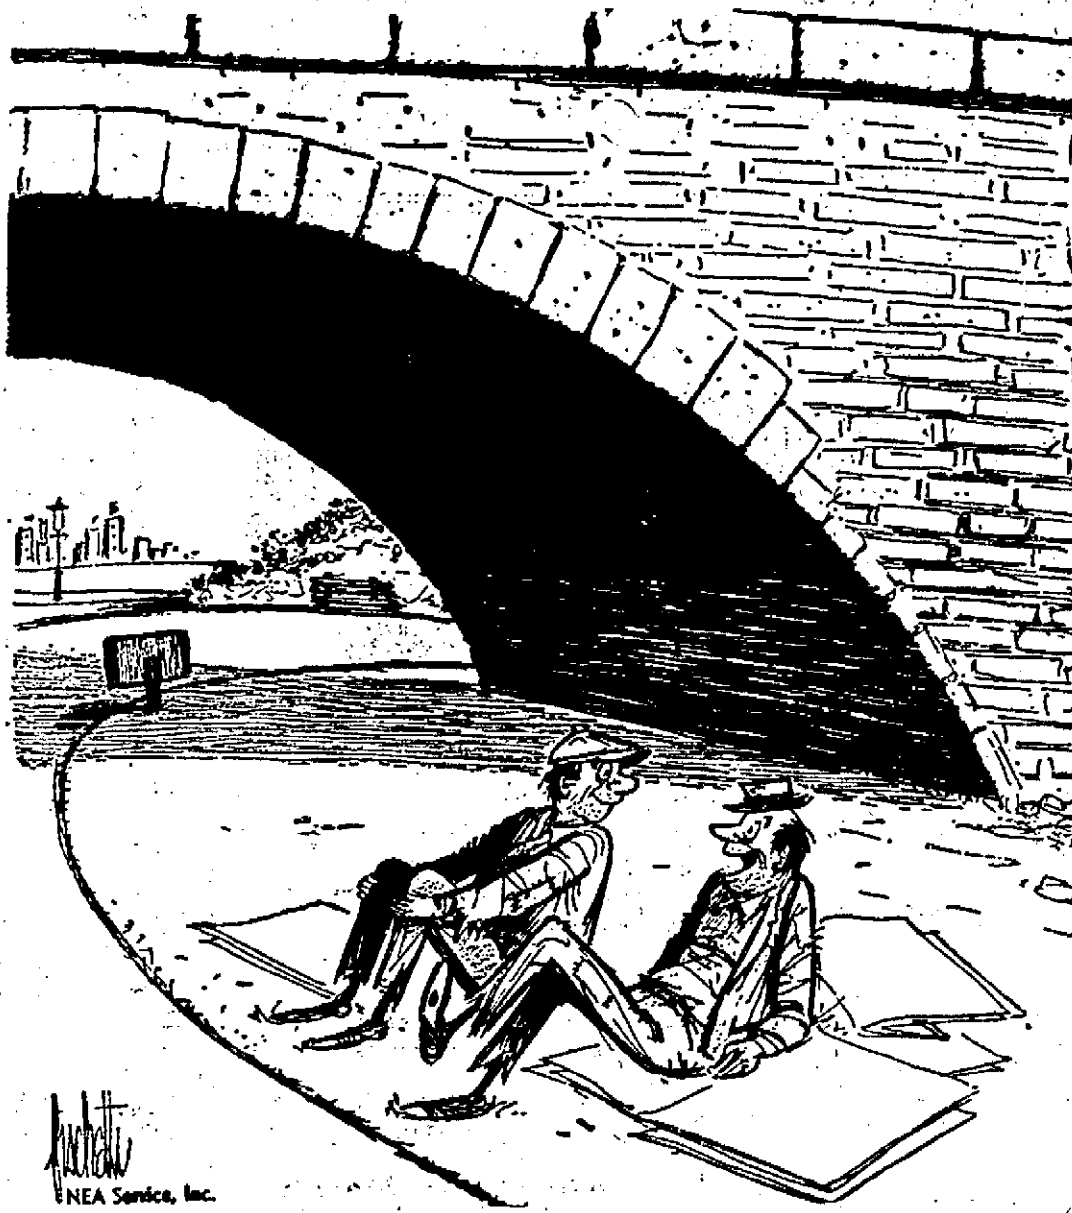

Tarnished Buttons

ALL THE NATIONS and maybe all the world knows the slogan "New York's finest," meaning its 20-odd thousand policemen. But right now the shine is off the buttons. Three policemen are charged with trying to extort $1,500 from a narcotics suspect, another is accused of assault and burglary. On top of that, a dozen guns and $20,000 have disappeared from safes in police headquarters. All were evidence in criminal cases, and at least one trial has been suspended through loss of a gun. When they say "New York's finest" they must be talking about how they look in their uniforms. They can't be talking of how they behave in them.

It's Not All Gravy

TO LIVE IN THE enchanted land of Tahiti has been the dream of many a man. More have dreamed of South Sea Islands than have lived there. Now it appears that hope need not be abandoned, merely postponed until retirement. The high cost of American living has made foreign lands attractive to many living on retirement income. The Social Security Administration reports that each month it forwards thousands of checks to addresses in Tahiti, Tangiers, Finland, Mexico and other foreign places. Funds that might represent mere subsistence in an American city can produce domestic help and other evidences of luxury abroad. The picture does have its drabber side. The hygienic quality of the food is often open to question; electricity is generally expensive; sometimes it is hard for Americans to adjust to foreign customs. Besides, when you've retired to the South Seas it's a long way rowing home to see Junior and the grandchildren.

Art Linkletter Moves On Time, Son Says

NEW YORK — Art Linkletter makes me nervous. He is so acutely amiable. I am slouching on a couch and he twinkles onto the screen, suddenly it is like Uncle Charlie dropping in—get out the cookies, dig up the pads and pencils, smile, smile, fun and games.

His 20-year-old son, Jack Linkletter, who begins a show called "Haggis Baggis" on NBC tonight, explains it all.

"Dad has five of us kids—I'm the oldest—and I've been playing parlor games since I could talk. Remember the game, 'Guggenheim'? That's what 'Haggis Baggis' is taken from, except it's much quicker in our version, and more exciting, and you win things like cabin cruisers and all-electronic kitchens if you win."

BIG JACK passed by breath. He's very amiable too. And tall and blonde, with a long, gaunt, likeable face. He said he's been working with his Dad toward this big network break for nearly ten years.

"I hung around Dad every-where he went. When I was real small, he used to listen for me to say funny things. He asked me to imagine I was a big-game hunter in Africa and then he interviewed me about my adventures, recording them on tape."

Such interviews—inspired by Jack, and perpetuated by other small children—helped make Art Linkletter the big personality he is today. Meantime, Jack hung around Art in radio and TV studios. By the time he was 15, he was reading radio commercials. A year later, he had his own radio show in Hollywood. He only gave it up to come to New York for big-time TV.

I MENTIONED to Jack that the whole Linkletter family seems to have boundless energy.

"Oh, sure," he said. "Get it from Dad. He has a strict schedule. Has to for all the things he does. Do you know that beside his six shows, and all his benefits, he's on the board of directors for five or six corporations — and attends all their meetings?"

"Well, he makes out a schedule for every day. Down to the minute. It includes a 45-minute sleep period in mid-afternoon. He lies down and like that, he's out. I follow the same sort of schedule. Every minute accounted for."

Young Linkletter pulled out a small notebook, and grinned. "It's such a tight schedule I didn't even think of allowing time for my wife to be a procrastinator — you know women, always 15 minutes late."

HIS BRIDE of eight months, he explained, is a former high school teacher. Respectful of the schedule, she no longer procrastinates. What's more, she too goes to sleep "just like that."

The Linkletters are impeccably adjusted. They like everybody and do everything right. They deserve the best.

For a number of deep-seated psychological reasons, it still makes me nervous.

Russian "Salad" Tough Meal For West

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — News from Moscow these last few weeks has been most revealing to students of Communist Russia.

The headlines have been on: Hungary's Ex-Premier Nagy Executed. Khrushchev Bids for U. S. Trade and Credits. Danish and West German Embassies Stoned in Moscow. Russia Breaks Secrecy on Summit Diplomacy. Russians Threaten Withdrawal From Atom Test Ban Talks. Russia Opposes West on Lebanon. Stockholm Peace Conference to Open July 16.

Inside the U. S. S. R., the big story has been the ending of compulsory collective farm grain deliveries to the motor and tractor stations. Hereafter grain will be purchased for cash — a new wrinkle in the Communist system.

TOSS ALL this lettuce in a bowl, douse it heavily with Russian dressing—it still isn't a good salad.

The change in the Soviet grain delivery system is an obvious attempt to strengthen Russia's internal economy. It is explained as one result of pressures from the so-called "second-generation Communists."

They are the new, educated technical men — as distinguished from "the old Bolsheviks"—who have industrialized Russia and put it on the road to becoming a major world power.

Khrushchev is supposed to have risen to the premiership by putting himself at the head of this new class.

Many people in the West have been kidded into believing that the real chance for peace rests with these new Russians who will reject old Communist doctrines.

Russia's apparent desire for greater cultural exchanges with the West, the receptions given to pianist Van Cliburn and the Moiseyev dancers, the friendlier front of the new Russian ambassador to Washington, Mikhail Menshikov — all are cited as evidence of this new trend.

BUT THE ANSWER given now by some Russian experts is that this new, second generation of Communist leaders is just as tough a bunch of babies as the old Bolsheviks.

True, they are interested in improving their own standard of living, and maybe that of the Russian people. That is why they want U. S. loans and industrial equipment.

But about the leaders or the common people of Hungary, Yugoslavia, Poland, East Germany or any of the other Communist satellites — the new and supposedly enlightened Kremlin gang is now revealed as giving not a hoot. This is shown in the Nagy execution, the new breaks with Tito.

This interpretation explains a lot. It serves warning that the free world is in for even colder war and tougher bargaining than it has from Russia in the past.

ONE FURTHER element in this situation is found in Russia's new progress in missile, jet aircraft and nuclear weapons development. This may have given Russian leaders an idea they now have a new bargaining strength.

This has been interpreted as evidence that the Russians now feel they can demand free world acceptance of Communist solutions on all international disputes.

When they can't get what they want, they refuse to cooperate with the rest of the world. This is what they did in threatening to pull out of the East-West scientists' talks, scheduled for Geneva July 1, to find a fool-proof system for policing atomic bomb test bans.

The Kremlin has frequently been credited with almost perfect precision and timing in its diplomatic moves.

THAT assumption can now be challenged by Russian mistakes in executing the Hungarian leaders, wrecking the Danish and West German embassies, violating confidences on Summit conference preliminaries and withdrawing from Geneva.

What the Kremlin does have is a tremendous propaganda machine that tides up after its diplomatic blunders.

That machine is now being thrown into high gear to promote the 1958 Stockholm Peace Conference. Its full name is the Congress for Disarmament and International Cooperation.

It is an obvious Communist gimmick to promote the idea that only the Reds want peace, a Summit conference, disarmament and a ban on nuclear weapons.

It will mask completely the real Communist intent to gain world domination by complete ruthlessness, as revealed in the other news emanating from Moscow.

REQUEST MADE—Finance Commissioner John G. Shearer, commenting on the amount of money being expended by various city departments, requested other councilmen to limit their expenditures as much as possible, but stated that it has always been necessary to purchase more material and other items during the summer months due to the many improvements that cannot be made at any other time. This, he said, accounts somewhat for some of the expenditures which appear larger than usual.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — In case you were thinking of moving to New York, it seems only sporting to advise you that this coming year will be the year in which New York will have to find an extra $100,000,000 to keep things going and the obvious way to get it is through the invention of new taxes. If you move here, you will pay for the privilege in a great many new ways.

UP TO NOW, the authorities have been sweeping a lot of fiscal problems under the rug. That is, hiding them under such budgetary double-talk as "debt service."

Just one item: the city has to come up with $17,500,000 to Uncle Sam in Social Security payments for its hired help. The money has been tucked away under "debt service" classification, but Uncle Sam is going to come calling for his money one of these days and the City had better have it and in cash.

It has deducted from wages, already, as prescribed by law, and has to find its end of the Social Security payments schedule. It's a pretty sum amounting to almost $3 for every person, man, woman and child, living in New York.

ALL KINDS of commissioners have been told to skimp on everything in their departments to account for another $20,000,000 that has to be paid out, like it or not. They have been told to make do with office equipment, cleaning help and message service. If a typewriter breaks down or needs a new ribbon, borrow your neighbor's at the next desk.

New York, by admission of its own fiscal authorities, is "down to the bone." There have been slashes here and there amounting to better than $35,000,000, and still it isn't enough.

One way of raising a thumping sum is in a City income tax, and the boys at City Hall are discussing this thoroughly but warily. It could be political suicide.

NEW YORKERS now pay a sizable Federal income tax, a less than lightweight State income tax and if, on top of those, there is imposed a Municipal income tax you will be able to hear the shrill yells of protest all the way to Utah.

New Yorkers will take a lot up to a point; but when that point is passed they can raise a frightful din. The politicians recognize that the individuals who impose this new tax are going to be individuals out of a job at the next election.

UNDER THE guise of making things better for everybody, a lot of new control statutes have gone into effect, or will soon: they have heavy fines for throwing litter on the streets and sidewalks, fines for crossing against traffic if you are a pedestrian and a new set of fines for a new set of vehicular traffic laws. Like signalling for a left turn at least 100 feet before making that turn or keeping 200 feet behind the car ahead to prevent tail-gating and a real cute one about parking.

You used to be able to hold a car in a no-parking area by sitting in it with the keys in the ignition and the motor running. No more. You can do all these things and still be ticketed for illegal parking if you are licensed and sitting in the car, ready to move.

IT IS HOPED that these and other new laws will bring in a first-class penny for the empty City larder. It is going to be hard to train New Yorkers not to throw empty cigarette packs and similar debris down onto the streets and sidewalks. They have been doing it for years. Waste baskets were for visitors and strangers.

It will be twice as difficult to train New Yorkers not to cross streets in the face of traffic, something they have considered, an inalienable right since the motor car was invented.

People who wait at curbs for lights to change in their favor are — or have been until now — considered somewhat weird, probably psychotic and almost certainly rubes.

A New Yorker is one who will wade out into traffic and risk his life for fear of getting to wherever he is going three seconds later than he would, have if he had waited.

I wish the boys luck: a hundred million dollars is a lot of new loot to raise.

Fox Down But Not Quite Out

WASHINGTON — The fellow to pity now is poor, old John Fox, the Boston financier who said he's almost broke. He's only got $2,000,000 left.

Before he skidded to perilously near the poor house, he told Representative Owen Harris he was worth $20,000,000. He blames, among others, Sherman Adams of the White House and the latter's generous friend, Bernard Goldfine, for strewing his path with fiscal banana peels.

FOX IS THE first millionaire I ever met who felt that he was a starving, but then I suppose prosperity is a relative thing; when you drop $18,000,000 in a couple of years, you don't even feel like spending 50 cents to get your pants pressed.

His gray trousers looked as though he'd slept in 'em when he appeared before the investigators with new sensations, such as quoting Goldfine as saying he paid for the house in which Adams lives here. This Adams promptly denounced as ridiculous; he said he rented his Washington home.

All this you've already seen on page one; let us here turn to the subject of vicuna overcoats, such as the one Goldfine presented Adams.

IN OTHER, happier days when he had $20,000,000 in the bank and $100,000 worth of fine whisky in a warehouse, Fox said he and Goldfine were pals. The pink-faced John said Goldfine seemed to have a peculiar affection for politicians, from dog-catcher on up, and contributed widely to their election campaigns. Representative Charles A. Wolverton wondered if he favored Republicans or Democrats.

"He drew no party line," Fox replied. "If they were politicians, he liked 'em."

Wolverton said he'd like to hear of some examples. Fox said, well, he knew of three people — two ladies and a U. S. Senator — to whom Goldfine offered vicuna coats.

"LET US LEAVE the women out of this," suggested the gallant gentleman from New Jersey. "One was my wife," said Fox, tented.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

Are you puzzled over what to do on your vacation?

Many men are. They know that if they go to the mountains they will have to help the children pick wild flowers to paste in their memory books. They know that if they go to the seashore, they will have to help the children collect seashells.

And they know if they stay home their wife will keep them busy 16 hours a day doing odd jobs around the house, such as repairing the vacuum cleaner, hanging wallpaper or picking green worms off the tomato plants — chores any strong, able-bodied woman ought to attend to herself.

If you're in this plight, here's an idea. Why not use your vacation to reform and improve yourself?

MOST MEN START their self-reform campaigns on New Year's Day. This is a bad time.

A man's resistance is so low in winter that he barely has the strength to continue his vices—let alone summon up the extra strength required to abandon them.

There is another factor. Vacation is the only time when a man can reform while lying down. Any other period of the year he will be standing up or moving about. Reform under this added stress and strain is almost impossible.

Still another advantage to giving up bad habits while on vacation is that there is no sudden wrench about it. You are in no hurry and can improve yourself slowly and leisurely.

LET US SUPPOSE you have gone to the seashore and want to cut down on your smoking and drinking. Here's what you do.

You stretch out on the sand and put a pack of cigarettes and a pitcher of martinis before you.

You say, "I'm not going to take a smoke or a drink for one full minute." Each day you add another minute of waiting before you indulge yourself. At the end of a two-week vacation you will be able to go a full 14 minutes.

This may not seem like a major achievement, but look at it this way: if you continue this reform program on every vacation for 40 years you will wind up being able to go 9 hours and 20 minutes without giving way to thirst or the desire for a pep-up puff.

Actually, if a fellow just doesn't rush it, there's no vice he can't give up or art he can't learn on a vacation—and return a better man for it.

One final virtue of this system. Nothing wears one sinner more than seeing another in the throes of repentance. Your friends will be grateful—whether you succeed or fail—that you spared them the boredom of watching your one-man reform wave.

If you must be a finer fellow, learn how out of town.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Senate Minority Leader, William F. Knowland is trying to live down a reputation at the White House for being the most correctly dressed personage since circusdom's Emmet Kelly. In this instance, however, the dignified lawmaker is not to blame. But he is gallantly striving to protect the real culprit—his devoted wife.

The Republican candidate for Governor of California was due at the White House for its most important State dinner in months, the one for President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines. But, as dinner-time drew nigh, it became evident that the Senate would sit overtime. It was in the throes of the labor bill, Knowland's pet project, and he felt he couldn't desert his leadership post on the distaff side of the aisle a minute ahead of recess.

He telephoned his wife, Helen, and informed her he would never be able to get home in time to dress. Mrs. Knowland said she would get his evening raiment assembled and delivered to his office in the Capitol.

WITH LOVING hands, she personally pressed his white dinner jacket and dress trousers. Ironed his frilled shirt, and inserted the studs. Double-checking every item as she went, she added his cummerbund, black tie, white suspenders, and exquisitely folded breast pocket handkerchief. She summoned the Knowland chauffeur and handed him one item at a time, enjoining him to guard them against wrinkling with his life.

The Garcia dinner was well under way when the Minority Leader arrived at the White House. He strove to appear unperturbed, but couldn't control a tightness about the mouth.

Mrs. Knowland subjected him to wifely inspection—and her eyebrows shot up like window blinds. His white jacket was immaculate, his shirt a thing of beauty, the studs were all in their right places and correctly anchored. His cummerbund was innocent of a single wrinkle.

But below it he had on a pair of old baggy gray pants.

After the dinner was ended, Mrs. Knowland sidled over to him and demanded an explanation. Making sure that both Presidents were out of earshot, he gritted:

"I can't make up my mind whether to kiss you or kill you!"

"I like that!" whispered back Mrs. Knowland. "After all the trouble I went to!"

"You didn't go to quite enough trouble," grated the Minority Leader. "You forgot to send my dress pants!"

THE LABOR BILL took its toll of other senators too. There were so many roll calls and summonses to conferences that the legislators ran themselves ragged chasing from one place in the Capitol to another.

Senator Henry M. Jackson, of Washington, clamped a pedometer on his pants and took nightly readings of the distance he had walked. At the end of the week he tabulated that, in his hoofings from his office to the Senate chamber, to the committee rooms, he had walked the equivalent of more than half way from Washington to Baltimore.

The pedometer readings averaged three-and-a-half miles a day. Senator Jackson, who is only 46, and a trained athlete, said he was exhausted and couldn't understand how some of his older colleagues had lived through it at all. He grinned, and added:

"I am telling you this in the hope that it will help to correct a popular misconception about Senators. Most people appear to think that the only things we exercise are our vocal chords."

Fallon Protests Low Toll Rates For Seaway

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md), chairman of the National Committee for a Non-Subsidized Seaway, says Atlantic and Gulf port interests fear that recommended tolls for the St. Lawrence Seaway are so low they won't support the project.

Fallon voiced the opinion at a meeting yesterday of representatives of shipping and business interests from ports along the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

The Baltimore congressman said he thought the seaway authorities had made a thorough study of estimated traffic, costs, tolls and revenues. But he feared, he said, that their calculations represented the most optimistic prospects of seaway operation.

If their assumptions do not materialize, Fallon said, the seaway "will fail to meet the requirements of the 1954 Congressional legislation authorizing the development and operation of the seaway."

The representatives approved generally of the transfer of seaway supervision to the U. S. Department of Commerce by President Eisenhower.

The national committee consists of 400 business, civic, public and port organizations from Maine to Texas.

Woman Sun Reporter Dies From Cancer

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Carol Wharton, State government reporter for The Evening Sun, died of cancer at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington yesterday. She was 50.

Mrs. Wharton joined the newspaper in 1942 as a military replacement but stayed on to become a regular reporter at the General Assembly sessions in Annapolis.

The State Senate last spring passed a resolution paying tribute to her as "a talented journalist... but far more important, a woman of incomparable personal charm, unfailing courtesy and sparkling wit."

In another formal resolution, the University of Maryland's board of regents expressed its "deep appreciation for her excellent coverage of meetings of the board."

She is survived by her husband, Col. James P. Wharton, head of the art department at the University of Maryland.

Andrew Jackson, who retired at 69, was the oldest man to hold the office of President. If Eisenhower serves his full term he will walk out at the age of 70 years plus three months.

SCENE FATAL SHOOTING—The mother of mental patient Robert Gephreux, 35, of Pawtucket, R. I., is shown being taken from scene of fatal shooting of two Pawtucket policemen. Gephreux went berserk last night and cut down the officers as they tried to enter his home where he was holding his mother captive. Thirty-five to 40 policemen finally subdued him with tear gas and a volley of machine gun fire. (AP Photofax)

Older Women Getting Younger All The Time

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Older women are getting younger all the time, says Dr. Winfred G. Helmes, who works on the womanpower program for the U. S. Department of Labor.

"When I speak of older women, I mean those who want to go back to work after their children are big enough to look out for themselves," she says.

"Now that girls are getting married so much younger, many, after raising their families, may be ready to go back to work at the age of 35. When you look at some of our most glamorous movie stars, you will agree that 35 is not old, or even middle aged. But a woman who has been out of the business world for 15 years face the same problems in returning, at any age.

"The greatest demand for women workers," continued Dr. Helmes is in "nursing, teaching and secretarial work. Any woman who is trained in any of these fields, can practically write her own ticket. She can have full or part-time work. She can fit the job into her personal schedule."

Dr. Helmes is deeply interested in the program of getting mature women back into paying jobs.

"There's still another field that offers both the greatest need and the greatest opportunity for the woman of mature years, whose children are grown and whose life has been spent at homemaking and raising children. Such (Continued on Page 22)

Segregation Suit Filed Against Frederick Officials

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three Negro movie patrons have asked Federal Court to enjoin city officials in Frederick, Md. from segregation policies now in force at a city-owned building used for movies.

The injunction suit was filed yesterday against Dan Weinberg, operator of the City Opera House, and the mayor and City Council of Frederick. The plaintiffs are Linwood A. Jones Jr. and Donald K. Lyles of Frederick and Weldon W. Christopher of Frederick County.

According to the suit, the auditorium houses city offices on the second floor and is owned by the municipal government. Under a lease agreement, the hall is used for movies and other public shows. The plaintiffs said the lease permits segregation and reserves a balcony for Negroes. They contended this was a violation of constitutional rights.

The suit alleges the balcony is physically unfit for use and "psychologically undesirable" and that Negroes are not afforded complete use of the recreational facility.

The plaintiffs said they were ordered to the balcony last March after taking seats in the seats reserved for white persons. Through attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the three men asked that the case be advanced on the court docket to insure a speedy hearing.

JUBILANT OVER STATEHOOD — Alaska's governor, Mike Stepovich, and Congressional advocates of statehood for the northern territory were jubilant last night after Senate passage of the Alaskan statehood bill by a vote of 64-20. Celebrating over a 49-star flag outside the Senate chamber after the bill's passage are, left to right: Ernest Gruening, former Alaska governor; Sen. Frank Church (D. Idaho); Sen. Thomas Kuchel, (R. Calif.); Gov. Stepovich, Sen. Harry Jackson, (D. Wash.); floor manager of the bill, Wally Hickel, GOP chairman for Alaska; Sen. Arthur Watkins, (R. Utah) and Sen. Richard Neuberger, (D. Ore.). The board's next scheduled meeting is July 14. Its membership consists of the Governor, Comptroller and State Treasurer. According to Powers' letter the fire had been burning in a slate bank for about five years before entering the coal seam. He said it was started by "parties unknown, probably timber cutters." Powers said an inspection on May 12 by state, federal and coal company officials showed that the fire will continue to spread and possibly affect adjacent coal resources. The Kootz Coal Co. is not in operation at the present time. It is controlled by William Jenkins Sr. and James Jenkins, of Frostburg. "They are giving their fullest cooperation," Powers said.

State Aid Requested To Put Out Mine Fire

ANNAPOLIS, (AP)—Frank J. Powers, director of the state Bureau of Mines at Westernport, has requested state aid to help extinguish a coal mine fire which has been burning out of control in Western Maryland.

Powers said the blaze has been burning since early May in the Pittsburgh (Big Vein) coal seam of the Kootz Coal Co., about half a mile west of Lord, Md.

He said if it isn't extinguished it "will destroy valuable resources in the Pittsburgh coal seam and will eventually extend to the Lonaconing area on the west side of Georges Creek where known coal reserves are still available."

Powers said the Federal Bureau of Mines has offered to put up half of a $40,000 fund to extinguish the fire and requested that the state Board of Public Works match it with an emergency allocation.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md) called from Washington Monday to urge that the money be advanced.

Gov. McKeldin was en route to a judicial conference at Hot Springs, Va., when Powers' letter arrived, but aides said he would probably take the matter up with the Board of Public Works.

Ex-Con Sought In Bride's Murder

DENTON, Md. (AP)—Maryland and Delaware police combed a large sector of this middle Eastern Shore area today looking for Clayton Edward Breeding, 26-year-old ex-convict charged with murdering a 19-year-old bride of three months.

The body of Mrs. Ruth Ellen Cannon, apparently strangled with a piece of white cloth tightly knotted around her throat, was found yesterday at 3 p. m. in a heavily wooded thicket near the Maryland-Delaware line.

The discovery came just 48 hours after the 5-foot-2, red-haired Mrs. Cannon was last seen alive at her home in Burtsville, about 5 miles east of Denton.

Police had been searching for Mrs. Cannon since she was reported missing early Sunday morning. A Denton policeman, searching the woods off Maryland 404, noticed something blue under some branches.

Removing leaves and branches which had been heaped at the spot, he found the body of Mrs. Cannon, clad in blue shorts, a white blouse and shoes.

Her blouse had been torn and police said the piece of cloth around her neck had either been ripped from the blouse or was a sash or ribbon from the garment.

The body was sent to the Baltimore morgue where an autopsy was to have been performed today. Dr. Dawson O. George, Carroll County medical examiner, said "she apparently was strangled." Her face was disfigured and her nose appeared to have been broken. Dr. George said he did not know if she had been raped.

State Police had issued a warrant charging Breeding with kidnapping before the body was found.

The charge was changed to murder with the discovery of Mrs. Cannon's body.

Breeding lived on a farm with his wife at Hickman, a small town straddling the state border, about four miles south of Burtsville and less than three from where the body was found.

Police said he had not worked since his release from the Maryland House of Correction late last year after serving time for breaking and entering and petty larceny. His record goes back to 1950. State Police said, and included time served on charges of grand larceny, assault and battery and parole violation.

Acting on an anonymous tipster's telephone call to "check Breeding," State Police went to his home yesterday. They said he ran out a back door, barefooted and wearing only trousers and a white T-shirt. They found his clothes packed, they said.

Barrel Use Considered

WASHINGTON — The possibility of using wooden barrels for long-term storage of critical and strategic government materials is now being considered by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

That announcement came today from the office of Sen. John D. Hobbittell Jr. (R-W. Va.). It was pointed out by the West Virginia's staff that use of the White Oak barrels, even on a limited basis, could pay off to farmers in the Mountain State.

Hobbittell joined with senators from several other states in obtaining a hearing for the Associated Cooperage Industries before the defense mobilization agency.

The ODM, which now uses steel drums for storage purposes, heard cooperage officials assert that the wood barrels are not only superior to 16-gauge galvanized drums in strength and serviceability but are $2 per unit cheaper. It was emphasized that the cooperage industry merely wants its fair share of the storage business and is not suggesting the discontinuance of storage in steel drums.

Hobbittell's office pointed out that the White Oak used in the barrels is in heavy abundance on farm woodlots in West Virginia.

West Virginia ranks second among the 48 states in reserves of White Oak, the forestry division of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported several weeks ago. "Use of the wooden barrels for a portion of the storage of these government materials could mean money in the pockets of our farmers who own woodlots," Hobbittell's office declared.

The ODM has taken the cooperage industry's plea under advisement.

The course is being given on an experimental basis. If successful, children from other elementary schools will be taught to swim next year. The course is sponsored by the Eckhart PTA.

Rotary Club Aids Library To Pass Goal Of $7,500

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Rotary Club presented officers of the Frostburg Public Library with a check last evening for $2,723.50 at the club's weekly meeting at Layman's Farm.

Peter Lukas, who headed the fund drive for the club, presented the check to Mrs. Francis P. Peretti. The amount brought the sum raised during the past eight months to a total of $7,771.50. The goal was $7,500.

Other library officers who attended the meeting were Mrs. George Young and Robert Kerr. Following the presentation Rev. Paul V. Taylor, club president, read a resolution adopted by the board of directors, commending Lukas for his efforts in promoting the fund drive for the library. The club then adopted the resolution unanimously.

Guests present were Francis McKenzie, Grantsville; Theodore Beall, Cumberland; and Ensign J. T. Taylor, Frostburg, who recently graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

President Taylor announced that the installation of officers, which had been scheduled for last night's meeting, was postponed for one week.

Flood Protection Studies For Keyser Area Near End

WASHINGTON — Congressman Harley O. Staggers stated today the planning and design studies for the flood protection project for the City of Keyser are nearing completion.

If these studies, made by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, show the project to be favorable, the plans together with an estimate of local costs will be presented to Keyser for consideration. This probably will be during the latter part of July.

In the event the proposal is acceptable the next action required of the city is to furnish adequate assurance that the requirements of local cooperation will be met. These requirements, as established by law, include such items as the furnishing of necessary lands, easements and right of way, making necessary utility changes, and an agreement to operate and maintain the project upon completion.

Tentative plans call for the construction of a flood wall extending along the south bank of the Potomac River from the extreme end of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yards to Welch Street, near the mouth of New Creek. The wall would be earth-filled except where it passes the plant of the Emerson-Pryne Company where it would be concrete because of the narrow distance between the plant buildings and the river.

Also included in the tentative plan is the removal of the island near the site of the old Keyser-McCooe bridge and the removal of the abutments of the abandoned Western Maryland Railway bridge.

Year after year great damage is experienced in this section because of the drastic floods. In 1954, Keyser suffered a deluge of unestimatable damage. In 1955, Congressman Staggers introduced and had reported from the House Public Works Committee a resolution which authorized $40,000 for planning and survey of the North Branch. It is his hope that these plans will culminate in flood prevention and eliminate such disasters. He has promised his continued cooperation in furthering the completion of this very necessary flood prevention project.

Mt. Savage

MT. SAVAGE — A social will be held today at 7:45 p. m. in the firemen's hall for the benefit of the Mt. Savage Volunteer Fire Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Boore have returned from Martinsburg where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Poland. They were accompanied by their grand-daughter, Miss Paulette Snyder of Cumberland, who will spend the next two weeks with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Poland.

Mrs. Marie Farrell has returned from Elkton where she conducted a sewing and designing workshop for teachers at Elkton School.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frankenberg and children returned to Baltimore after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frankenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McDermitt and children, Silver Spring, visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Farrell.

Meetings Scheduled

PIEDMONT — Calantha Temple 8, Pythian Sisters, will hold only one meeting each during July and August. The dates are July 15 and August 12.

Horse Show Scheduled

BEDFORD — Close to 300 horses are entered in this year's horse show at the Bedford Fairgrounds over the July 4 weekend. Included in the entries for the fifth annual Bedford County Lions Interstate event are three U. S. champion horses and ponies.

"One in A Million," owned by Blue Lakes Farm of Shaker Heights, Ohio, was two-year high score winner of the United States. Champion five-gaited horse last year at Madison Square Garden was "Rita's Rascal," owned by Beallgrove Farms, Wexford, Pa. "King's Brown Flash," owned by Neidig's Dairy, Sunbury, Pa., was the leading Shetland pony.

In addition to the top winners two harness reserve champions have been entered — "Golden Beall," another Beallgrove Farms five-gaited horse, and "Stonewall Supreme's Rita" from the Hy-Tyre Farms, Gibsonia, Pa.

Several winners from last year's show in Bedford will again be competing for honors in the 75 classes. "Catalina Miss" took top honors in the junior riders' three-gaited class while "Pert Chirp" placed third in the Pheasant Junior riders' five-gaited event. Both are owned by Miss Duchess Benko of Youngstown, Ohio.

Jumper stake champion was "Royal Flight" owned by Imperial Motors, Canonsburg.

Eight entries have been accepted from the Beatty Buick G. M. C. Trucking Company of Washington, Pa., one of the leading stables in the east.

Busy Phone Line Pays Off For Writer

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When Harry Junkin, serving in the Royal Canadian Air Force, was stationed in Ottawa in 1940, he unexpectedly received a leave.

With only minutes to catch a plane to Montreal, Junkin tried to telephone his wife about his homecoming. He couldn't make the call: the circuits were busy.

The incident, however, has turned out to be Junkin's next egg.

"I started thinking about the busy circuits and wondering what a person would do if the message were a matter of life and death," he said. "And then I sat down and wrote 'Long Distance.'"

And "Long Distance" has turned out to be a broadcasting classic. It was first performed on radio by the Canadian Broadcasting Co. in 1941 (Junkin was a CBS writer). It was repeated by CBS in 1943, 1945 and 1947. It was played by the Australian Broadcasting Co. in 1946, and done by the British Broadcasting Co. in 1947.

In 1948 Junkin got a job with NBC radio in New York. "Long Distance" was his first show and it was such a popular success it was repeated three months later.

In 1950 it turned up on television, as "The Clock." Three years later, Mariam Hopkins did it on Video Theater and it was repeated the next year. It was used in Canada, France, Switzerland and Germany.

Now it is coming up again—on July 25 on the Playhouse of Stars. This time Jessica Tandy is the heroine and it is a filmed show.

In all "Long Distance" has been played about 20 times—each time Junkin reaps new financial rewards—and thus has established some sort of a record, if only by the translation into African for Durban and Capetown listeners.

It is a suspense story, showing the mounting tension as the wife of a man scheduled for execution attempts to get through a telephone call about newly discovered evidence and finds the circuits busy.

Junkin himself has gone on to become one of television's busiest free lance writers, turning out scripts for all the top live dramatic shows and many of the series and serials.

Mason Named County Head Of GOP Unit

Committee Plans Headquarters At Commercial Bank

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason has been named Republican campaign chairman by the county State Central Committee, according to J. Glenn Beall Jr., committee chairman.

The committee plans to open a campaign headquarters on the first floor of the Commercial Bank building sometime this month, and will name a headquarters manager, finance chairman, and committeemen to work with Mason.

Mason, a native of Cumberland, graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1945 and served with the Coast Guard in the European and Pacific theatres aboard the USS Wakefield during World War II.

He graduated from Washington and Lee University with a law degree in 1951 and began a law practice in Cumberland. He served as administrative assistant to former State Senator Robert B. Kimble during sessions of the General Assembly from 1952 to 1955.

Mason was appointed to trial magistrate in 1952, and served until March of this year, when he resigned to accept appointment as assistant state's attorney by James S. Getty, state's attorney.

Active in Republican politics, Mason has held office in the Young Republican Club of Allegany County, and is a member of the Lonaconing Republican Club, the Cumberland Optimist Club, Junior Association of Commerce, American Legion, and Cumberland Outdoor Club.

He is vice president of the church council of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, and is a member of Potomac Lodge 100, A.F. and A.M., and of the Ali Ghan Shrine. He holds membership in the American Bar Association and in the Maryland State Bar Association.

Mason and his wife, the former Miss Dorothy Ebert, live at 435 North Centre Street.

The State Central Committee is holding regular meetings in various towns in the county. Beall said the next will be at 8 p. m. Tuesday, July 15, at the Lonaconing City Hall.

Youths Jailed In Connection With Safe Job

Three youths were committed to the Allegany County Jail yesterday afternoon in default of $1,000 bond each on charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny.

Committed to jail were Phillip Miller, 18, Springfield, W. Va.; Albert T. Rockwell, 18, of 612 Virginia Avenue, and a 17-year-old youth.

County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya obtained a waiver from Juvenile Court for the 17-year-old boy and the three were given preliminary hearings in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick conducted the hearings and set bond for action of the October term of the Grand Jury.

City Police arrested the three youths last week in connection with the breaking and entering and theft of over $200 from the safe of Brock's Junk Yard in South Cumberland.

Detective Kenneth Morrissey, who questioned the youths last Thursday and Friday, said they admitted they broke into the junk yard office and took the money and a .22 calibre pistol.

Police said they recovered $170.85 of the approximately $240 which was stolen.

Request Granted For Parking Area

The Mayor and Council yesterday granted, on recommendation of City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, the request of Robert E. Zimmerla to use a city-owned lot adjacent to his machine shop at 718 North Mechanic Street for a parking lot for employees.

The recommendation was passed with the proviso that some month-to-month rental agreement be reached which would be satisfactory to both parties.

Trooper Nabs Area Boy For Looting Home

A 17-year-old Polish Mountain area youth was charged with breaking and entering and larceny yesterday afternoon and is being held in the Allegany County Jail.

State Trooper Kenneth Messmer said the youth broke into the home of Merle Hinkle near Flintstone on June 26.

Trooper Messmer said the youth broke into the residence and took a .30-30 rifle, target pistol, hunting knife, a $20 bill and box of shells.

The youth then went outside and fired several rounds into the house, according to the trooper. Trooper Messmer said the bullets went through the house and damaged several pieces of clothing, a small camera and a new power lawnmower.

The trooper said the youth, who had been drinking, also fired a shot which damaged an electrical wire outside the house.

Juvenile Court authorities have waived jurisdiction over the youth and he will be given a preliminary hearing later this week in Trial Magistrate Court.

Citizenship Observance Proclaimed By Governor

Governor McKeldin has issued a call to all Marylanders to give special attention to the Fourth of July celebration during this week, — Responsible Citizenship Week.

American people, in this Theodore Roosevelt centennial year, McKeldin said, should rededicate this Fourth of July as a day of remembrance and challenge.

In no more appropriate way could Americans observe Roosevelt's centennial than by a new upsurge of that Free American spirit he loved and served so well.

The Maryland Committee of the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial Commission is urging all citizens to make Friday an occasion for each of us to review freedom, — its foundations, — its challenge, its responsibilities, — and that each should renew his faith in that freedom.

Governor McKeldin proclaimed this week as Responsible Citizenship Week as a time for a resounding reaffirmation of faith in America.

"Let us make July 4 a day of jubilation, gratitude and new resolves, a day of deepening appreciation of what America means and what it has to give mankind, a day of prayer, a day to face the perils and opportunities that confront us, and a day of the acceptance of the citizen's duty to strengthen the nation by building up, within himself, those qualities Theodore Roosevelt summed up as character, — courage, honesty, decency, resolution and the willingness to work effectively for the public good," the governor declared.

County Road Work Urged For Jobless

Commissioner Wilson Shows How Federal Funds Can Be Used

A proposal was made today by Commissioner William A. Wilson that the Allegany County Board of Commissioners study a program whereby a secondary road construction project could be started to help alleviate unemployment.

Wilson, showed Commissioners James Orr and Charles N. Wilkinson a booklet published by the National Association of County Commissioners which outlined how federal funds can be obtained for such a project at little cost to the county.

The program, as outlined in the booklet, provides for the federal government paying two-thirds of projects and the county one-third.

Study Scheduled
Under this plan the county could allocate $50,000 and the federal government $100,000 for projects on secondary roads.

The board said they will study the plan and make a decision in the near future. Wilson pointed out that the application for such funds would have to be made by December 1, 1958 and the project completed within one year.

Wilson said that not only would such road work provide some jobs for unemployed county men but would also improve the county road network.

Road Work Asked
The commissioners also received a request from Grace Snider to make repairs to a roadway known as "Featherbed Lane."

The road runs off Cash Valley Road in the Corriagville area, she said. The matter was referred to the Roads Department.

Residents in the Charleston section of Lonaconing called about the nuisance caused by dust rising from the road. The matter was referred to the Roads Department.

The junior group will have Mrs. Mary Ellen True as leader with Mrs. Verta Smith and Mrs. Ethelyn Seward as teachers.

Planists will be Mrs. Gladys Coffman and Miss Carol Snider. Mrs. Coffman will also be treasurer. Elder Parish will teach crafts and B. J. Kerns will manage transportation.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Thelma Armstrong and Mrs. Julia Snider.

Court Probates Two Wills Here

Two wills were admitted to probate today in Allegany County Orphans Court.

The will of Ada B. Johnson, who died June 26, names a son, David N. Johnson and a daughter, Nellie C. Taylor, as executors and beneficiaries. The executors reside on Bedford Road.

The will of Lucy M. Glick, who died June 20, lists five brothers, two sisters and a nephew as beneficiaries. Vincent A. McKenzie, Valley Road, a brother, is executor of the estate.

Brewery, Union Agree On New One-Year Pact

Local 265, Brewery Workers' Union, and the Queen City Brewing Company today announced a new agreement which will provide, among other benefits, a $3 a week wage increase for the members of the local employed by Queen City.

Officials said the contract has been reviewed and approved by the international union prior to the service falls on a regular working day.

The contract was negotiated by the company and the Orville Young, president of Local 265; Charles F. Martin, general secretary; George F. Hersick, F. W. Schilling and Chester A. Stewart, while William L. Wilson, president; C. A. Brotomarkle, vice president; and Arch M. Hutcheson, secretary-treasurer, represented the Queen City Brewing Company.

The new contract continues to provide four weeks of paid vacation for employees who have been

Mayor Meets Mayor-elect

The City Hall had two unexpected visitors this morning in the persons of Mayor-elect Edwin J. Keach and Commissioner-elect G. Ray Light.

The two new members of the incoming administration were introduced around the City Hall by City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery.

The major portion of the visit was spent in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves, where the two city fathers were deep in conversation, presumably discussing city operations and problems.

Extra Charge To Start On Certain Mail

It could be quite embarrassing should you fail to affix the correct postage to mail sent today or any time after.

Particularly if the mail happened to be letters extending invitations to weddings, parties or the like, or making birth announcements.

Because starting today there will be a new short-paid charge assessed by the Post Office Department for all unpaid or insufficiently prepaid mail. The charge will be the amount of deficient postage plus the new charge of five cents per piece of mail.

And the person to whom the mail is addressed will have to pay any added charges.

Could be that he wouldn't be too happy about forking seven or eight cents to find out that a friend was passing out cigars because of a blessed event.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon called attention to the change, which is under authority of a public law approved April 9 and made effective July 1.

He also said that under the authority of the new law, the fee for returning dead letters and dead first class parcels to senders will be increased from 5 cents to 10 cents each, also effective today.

Conlon again advised that only printed matter containing just a handwritten signature, unsealed, can be mailed at the third class rate.

Court House To Be Closed On Saturday

The Court House and various state offices in Cumberland will be closed Saturday as the result of a proclamation by Gov. McKeldin setting aside the day as a holiday.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners will meet Thursday morning at 10 a. m. due to their regular meeting date falling on Friday, which is the Fourth of July.

Parley Asked By CD Head

A meeting with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners sometime after July 15 was asked today by William G. Barger, director of Civil Defense in the county.

Barger said he would like to discuss the location of an air raid siren in the vicinity of the Court House.

The siren was removed from the old Roman property on Washington Street when construction of the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church was started a few months ago.

Barger said that when the proposal to locate the siren atop a pole on Prospect Square was made it evoked considerable public discussion. He said he would like to have the matter discussed with the commissioners so a suitable site can be selected.

Granted Permit

John Beegle, 1209 Bedford Road, has been granted a permit for the construction of a one-story residence on that street.

Records at the city engineer's office show the proposed structure will be built of concrete block and brick veneer at an estimated cost of $8,000.

Utility Paid For Work On Flood Project

Potomac Edison Relocated Lines In Way Of Jobs

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved the payment of $17,752 to the Potomac Edison Company as the cost of relocating utilities in connection with the Cumberland flood protection project.

The work was done on the Valley Street Bridge, Avirett Avenue and Kelly Boulevard, Market Street, Water Street and the C&O Canal.

The Cumberland Lions Club today sent the Mayor and Council a check for $1,001.03, the amount representing the payment of all the city's costs in connection with the preparation and cleaning up of the municipal airport for the Cumberland National Championship Sports Car Races last month.

Suit Paid For
Council also authorized a check for $16.50 be drawn for Helen Maguire, representing damages suffered to her bathing suit while acting as a Girl Scout swimming instructor at Constitution Park.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long questioned payment in view of what he termed "indecision" on the part of management of the pool and the Recreation Department, but voted in favor of issuing the check after Eugene Mason, city recreation director, said he felt the request was justified.

Purchase Hit
Also ordered issued was a check for $325 to the firm of Miles, Walsh and Stockbridge for legal services in the test case on the legality of the $500,000 urban development bond issue.

Referred for investigation of the city attorney was a letter from a Hyattsville firm protesting the awarding of a bid to the McClung Logan Equipment Company for a distributor. The letter said, in part, "The acceptance of an item not in line with original specification — defeats the purpose of competitive bidding."

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum defended acceptance of the McClung Logan bid, pointing out that its bid was for $3,734, compared to $4,192.90 for a comparable item.

Board Orders Survey Of Georges Creek Area

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today decided to advertise for bids on a comprehensive engineering survey of the Georges Creek area from Frostburg to Westernport which could be used in providing sanitary sewerage facilities for the area.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, submitted a letter to the board in which he outlined the legal situation of the commissioners concerning an order issued to the board June 20 by the State Department of Health for such a survey.

No Alternative
Getty stated that in his opinion the order by the state agency is legal and valid and one with regard to which the commissioners have no alternative but to comply.

He said the State Board of Health has the authority under the statutes, when after investigation, it finds that any waters of the state are becoming polluted in a manner dangerous to health, or because of the absence or incompleteness of any water supply or sewerage disposal system the public health is prejudiced, to issue an order for the installation of public water or sewerage disposal systems within a specified time.

Cites Authorities
In this order, Getty continued, no attempt is being made by the State Department of Health to compel the construction of a sewerage disposal system by the county, but merely to compel the making of an engineering study of the situation.

The county commissioners, in the absence of being required to do so by the State Health Department, have no authority to engage in the water supply or sewerage disposal business, Getty stated.

The former Allegany County Metropolitan Sanitary Commission was vested by statute with that authority. The effect of this order is to leave the way open for the formation of a county or district sewerage authority.

Youth Admits Gang Beating Story "Hoax"

The reported "gang beating" of an 18-year-old local youth last Saturday morning on the West Side was termed a "hoax" today by City Police.

Det. Lt. James E. Van said Allen Emerick, this city, admitted in a statement that he had not been beaten on Pace Street near the West Side School by a "gang of youths."

Lt. Van said the youth admitted he had sustained injuries in a fight with other youths in nearby West Virginia.

After being admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital early Saturday morning, the youth informed City Police that he had been beaten by the gang while he was walking home after visiting a friend on Greene Street.

Lt. Van said today that since the affair occurred in West Virginia and not Maryland local authorities will not have jurisdiction over the reported assault case.

However, the youth is being held for action of the State's Attorney's office in connection with providing false information to police officers.

Emerick informed Det. Van today that he had gone to West Virginia with a couple of his friends and that after the fight he and a man, Adrian Counihan, 26, this city, hitchhiked a ride home.

Counihan was treated for minor injuries in Memorial Hospital and released. Emerick was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital where he was released yesterday afternoon.

A total of 138 were enrolled in the school and 62 of these were presented with certificates for perfect attendance during the two weeks.

Handicraft was displayed by the children and the teachers reviewed the work covered during the course of study. Prayer was offered by Ellsworth Emerick and Eugene Street paid tribute to the workers of the school.

Canal Park Bill Talks Move Into Second Day

A Congressional hearing on the proposed C&O Canal parkway project went into its second day this morning with Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde (R-Md.), author of the needed access to one of the few House bill on the subject, hopeful that testimony will result in favorable action on the legislation.

George Henderson, former mayor of Cumberland and retired chief judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit Court of Maryland, was yesterday's principal witness. He area.

"The increased tourist traffic, which the park will generate, will be a pronounced stimulus to the economy of the Potomac River scenic parkway connection envisioned between Maryland Route 51 in the general vicinity of Paw, and the existing Long Ridge Road near Woodmont, will also greatly benefit Western Maryland merce. City Expects $100,000 In Unspent Funds

Amount Represents Money Returned From Last Budget

Despite charges of waste and inefficiency, the present city administration will return an approximate $100,000 to unexpended funds from the budget for the fiscal year which ended yesterday.

Actually, there is no surplus, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out, since the funds represent only the remaining portion of a $337,000 surplus which was available when the 1957-58 budget was set.

The approximate $100,000 which is expected from the over-estimated departmental budgets will still fall some $9,000 short of meeting the costs of pensions for city employees during the year which ended yesterday, Gibson stated.

Work On June Bills
The Finance Department is working busily with the invoices for June purchases, and the pay-rolls for the second portion of June which were approved at yesterday's Council session.

When all returns are in and bills paid, Gibson said he will know the exact amount of money which will be returned by the city departments. Some departments were overdrawn during May, and were expected to be "deeper in the red" at the end of the fiscal year.

In any event, Gibson cautioned that there will be $137,000 less on hand for the 1958-59 budget than was available last year, largely because of non-recurring items which the city was given access to last year.

Bond Defeat Cited
Defeat of the $500,000 Urban Development bond issue referendum on June 17 prohibits the incoming Mayor and Council—at least for the present—from restoring to the city treasury funds being withheld by the State Roads Commission under a contractual agreement for the Cumberland Thruway.

Gibson estimates that the city's share of the 1957 gas and oil taxes should have been about $93,826.

As the 11th month ended May 31, collections on the all-time high $2,005,860 levy totaled $1,717,250.40. This left $284,711.94 to come in, but this figure would be reduced by excess collections of $6,102.34.

Not all of this $2,005,860 is subject to taxation, as the figure includes $247,500 for sewer service charges which are paid by all who discharge sewage into city lines.

Part of the $100,000 guess was based on the cancellation by the Mayor and Council yesterday of bids for a motor grader which had been advertised by the Street Department.

This will leave more than $20,000 in the Street Department appropriation but may merely defer the purchase until the current fiscal year.

City income from state auto license fees, Gibson stated, is way behind—$38,551 short of the amount levied. He added that the money is coming but that the city does not know when.

Another $24,394 of the surplus will represent unexpended funds in a $37,000 account set up last year for relocation of sewers on the Industrial Boulevard.

He added this will not represent extra money as an account will have to be set up for such work next year.

Three Officers Finish Course

Three local law enforcement officers have completed a 10-week training course at the University of Maryland.

The Cumberland Police Department was represented by Det. George Furstenberg and Policewoman Betty Williams, while Tfc. Jack Browning attended from the LaVale barracks of the Maryland State Police.

The course was for law enforcement officers working with juveniles and was sponsored by the State Department of Public Welfare and the University of Maryland.

Paul Fudge Termed Enigma; Murdered Mother Of Friends

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — Gov. Underwood in Charleston today, erased all but the faintest hope for Larry Paul Fudge, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair at 9 p. m. in the State Penitentiary here.

"As of now, I have not found any extenuating circumstances which would justify an act of clemency on my part," the governor told newsmen this morning.

He added, however, that he would hold the case "open all day long."

Underwood said three psychiatrists who, at the governor's request, examined Fudge, expressed, "no doubt about his sanity" in their reports.

A personable, handsome young man, Fudge pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the brutal slaying of a Huntington woman last Jan. 4.

The victim was Mrs. Inez Booth, 51, wife of a former Huntington city councilman. Fudge grew up with Mrs. Booth's two sons.

Last Family Visit
Fudge, 26 last week, reportedly was awaiting death calmly. He was to order his last meal this morning. Then, if the governor does not commute his sentence to life imprisonment, Fudge may visit with his family one last time before going to the electric chair.

A spokesman in Gov. Underwood's office in Charleston said last night there would be no announcement unless the governor decides on commutation.

The governor ordered three psychiatric reports on Fudge. The reports were delivered last week but their contents were not made public.

An earlier psychiatrist's report showed Fudge liked publicity as a means of getting recognition. It said Fudge was a rival with a brother for his mother's affection. However, the report said Fudge had no homicidal inclinations.

The psychiatrist also reported Fudge had an I. Q. of 117, above average. He was an honor student in his school.

Fudge's first brush with the law came in 1952 when he was sentenced to five years in a federal penitentiary for extortion. Prison officials described him as "one of the most industrious and accurate (prisoners) we ever had." He was paroled after serving the minimum time of five years, two months.

Just three weeks later Mrs. Booth was slain. Shortly before her death, she told officers Fudge forced her to leave her home at knife-point, drove her to a park, raped her, stabbed her and left her for dead.

Brother A Minister
The crime stunned Fudge's family and friends. In prison he had read the Bible and attended church services regularly. The day of the murder, a Saturday, he had announced intentions of attending church the next day. The service was to be conducted by his younger brother, Fred, a Baptist minister.

Among those shocked by the crime was Lindsay C. Yost, U. S. probation officer in Huntington. "I thought I understood that boy," Yost said.

Warden D. E. Adams said Fudge has spent much of his time at the State Penitentiary reading the Bible and has seen the Protestant

Canal Park

new recreational opportunities important to new industry and a vital link with the East.

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, was among a half dozen witnesses strongly backing the park project.

It is estimated to involve expenditure of $3,330,000 over a five-year period. Land, valued at a million dollars would be needed to widen the existing C & O canal.

Right of way acquired by the government in 1938. The other expenditures would be for roads, trails and buildings.

In committee questioning of witnesses, acting committee chairman Gracie Frost (D-Idaho) raised the question whether establishment of the park would conflict with proposals for construction of one or more dams along the Potomac River to create additional water supplies for the metropolitan Washington area.

Hyde said he felt the park legislation should be considered entirely separate and apart from the water problem.

As for state sovereignty, Hyde pointed out that the federal government already owns the strip constituting the present C & O Canal right of way and that making the area a national park would not materially affect the present situation.

Retail Sales Of Cigarets Said Brisk

BALTIMORE (AP) — Retail cigarette sales boomed in the Baltimore area yesterday as smokers stocked up in advance of Maryland's new three-cents-a-pack cigarette tax which went into effect today.

In Anne Arundel County, where there is no local cigarette tax, sales reached rush proportions.

"We've been getting orders for 20 to 30 cartons," the manager of one tobacco department said. "We're completely out of popular brands, so they're buying the others."

Sales were reported far above normal at a downtown Baltimore drugstore. A clerk said there had been "many more orders for three and four cartons than usual."

The governments of both Baltimore City and Baltimore County, where a five-cent local tax has been in effect, have lowered their levies to three cents to coincide with the effective date of the State tax.

The State tax was enacted by the 1958 General Assembly over the veto of Gov. McKeldin to provide salary increases for school teachers and estimates have indicated the annual yield will top 10 million dollars.

Crops Growing Good Despite Cool Weather

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Despite the cool weather, corn and other crops planted in the springtime continued to make generally good growth last week, the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said today.

Rains interrupted haying and barley harvest, and caused wheat to "lodge" in some sections, the service found. However, at the week's end about half of the barley was harvested for the area as a whole and was about 80 percent complete on the Delmar Peninsula.

The wheat harvest won't get underway in general until next week, the service said.

Crop reporters said that planting of tobacco was about finished in Southern Maryland, with stands termed excellent. About 10 percent of the soybean acreage remains to be planted, with earliest fields six to eight inches high, and stands in excellent condition.

Delaware potato prospects were reported excellent, and a few early cobs of corn are starting to move after the July 4th holiday. Green wrap tomatoes also should be moving by the end of the week.

Corn growth varies from a few inches in northernmost counties to three feet on the southern end

Nothing's sure in baseball, unless maybe it's Warren Spahn pitching against the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Since entering the National League back in 1942, the canny Milwaukee southpaw has beaten his Cincinnati "cousins" 48 times while losing only 15 games to them.

Don't go snapping your fingers at those 48 victories, either. Even if you're not impressed, such fine pitchers as Johnny Podres, Sam Jones, Ronnie Kline and Larry Jackson are.

They've all been in the league a while and not one of them can top that total of 48 wins—including all their victories against every club in the circuit.

Spahn Purposely Saved

Milwaukee manager Fred Haney saved Spahn purposely for the Redlegs last night and he sure knew what he was doing. The 37-year-old lefty held Cincinnati to six hits in a 9-2 triumph that marked his 10th victory of the year.

Spahn, apparently headed for a 20-game season for the ninth time in his career, did not get his 10th last year until July 16, but still wound up with a 21-11 record.

The Braves achieved last night's triumph at the expense of Bob Purkey and retained their 2-1/2 game lead. Milwaukee collected 12 hits, chasing Purkey with a four-run rally in the fourth inning and piling up five more runs against Tom Acker in the fifth. Del Crandall drove in three runs with a single and a double and Spahn also collected two hits to raise his batting average to .400.

The combination of Stan Musial and Lindy McDaniel paced the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-2 decision over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Musial drove in two runs with his 13th homer and a double while McDaniel limited the Dodgers to seven hits in gaining his fifth win. Musial's two extra-base hits moved him within two of Lou Gehrig's total of 1,190, which ranks second best in the majors. Babe Ruth is the leader with 1,336 extra bases. John Roseboro homered for the Dodgers. The loss was charged to starter Bob Giallombardo.

Indians, Tigers Win

San Francisco, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh all were idle.

Only two games were scheduled in the American League where Cleveland defeated Chicago, 5-3, and Detroit topped Kansas City, 7-6.

Reliever Hoyt Wilhelm had to throttle an eighth-inning rally by the White Sox to preserve Cal McLish's fourth victory. The Indians jumped in front with two runs in the second on Minnie Miñoso's 12th homer, a hit batsman and Billy Moran's double, and they added two more off-liner Dick Donovan in the fifth on a walk and three singles. Jim Landis homered for Chicago.

Kansas City had Detroit beaten, 6-4, until a disastrous ninth inning in which the Tigers scored three runs with the aid of two errors.

With the bases full, Harvey Kuenn hit a grounder to third baseman Preston Ward, who threw wildly allowing two runs to cross. Right fielder Roger Maris retrieved the ball and allowed the winning run to score when he also threw wildly to third.

Billy Hoelt picked up his seventh victory in relief. Tom Gorman was the loser. Bob Cerv hit his 20th homer for the A's while Harry Simpson hit his third.

Texas Golfer Shoots 71 In British Trial

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, England — (UPI) — Monte Bradley of Hillsboro, Tex., shot a second-round 71 that gave him a good chance of qualifying for the British Open Golf Tournament.

Bradley's 36-hole total was 148, which was expected to be the qualifying limit for the tournament proper. Ed Kolarczyk of Holland, Ohio, and Otto Prochazka of Ardsley-On-Hudson, N. Y., failed to make the grade. Kolarczyk shot an 85 for a 158 total; Prochazka withdrew after a poor second-round start.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who shot a superb first-round 68 yesterday despite a painful back injury, soared to a second-round 81 today and his 149 aggregate made him a doubtful qualifier.

English Weather Too Much For Gene

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England. (AP) — Gene Sarazen, one of the greatest of all bad weather golfers, admitted today the English weather is getting to be too much for him.

"This is weather for kids not for men in their fifties," the 56-year-old Germantown, N. Y., pro growled.

Coming off the rainswept Fairhaven course after the first qualifying round for 1958 British Open, Sarazen complained.

"It was raining when I got here last week and it's been raining ever since. I don't like playing in this kind of weather any more."

Still, the weather in this English village overlooking the Irish Sea did not hurt the old master's game.

Playing through the first half of 36 qualifying holes for the championship opening Wednesday Sarazen scored a one over par 73.

Earlier in the day playing in bitter weather, Australian Peter Thomson took the lead for the medal with a 63 on the tougher Lytham course.

Two other players — Alex Fox of Scotland and Angelo Angelino of Italy — scored 66 at Fairhaven.

When he arrived last week Sarazen, 1932 Open winner, said he was here just for fun.

His score in the first qualifying round changed his mind — a little.

"Well," he conceded, "My game is too good right now to say I'm here just for fun. Let's just say I am going to try and qualify."

Highest-Priced Trotting Stallion In Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Demon Hanover, highest priced trotting stallion in history, arrived at Walnut Hall Farm at nearby Donora Monday.

Purchased last October for a record price of $500,000 by a syndicate formed by John Gaines of Lexington, the 13-year-old sire was named here from Gay Acres Farm, Wooster, Ohio, the standard bred nursery of Robert and Henry Critchfield, former owners of the horse.

Demon Hanover had a record of 1:59 4-5.

Games are scheduled to begin at 6:15 p.m.

Musial, batting .382 in his last nine games and now .363 for the year behind the .369 posted by Willie Mays of San Francisco, hit his 34th homer in a two-run Cardinal first that chased rookie Bob Giallombardo in his first major league decision. A walk, stolen base and an error gave the Cards the payoff run in the third and Musial then socked in the cushion run in the fifth. Winner Lindy McDaniel (5-7) gave only seven hits.

Cubs, White Sox Play Day, Night

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball fans in Chicago, the only city with two major league clubs, get a chance to see both of them in action today and tonight.

It never happened before. The Cubs meet the San Francisco Giants in a National League game in Wrigley Field this afternoon. Tonight the White Sox meet the Cleveland Indians in an American League game in Comiskey Park.

In the 30s, conflicts in the leagues' schedules forced both the White Sox and Cubs to play at home the same afternoon on occasion. But this is the first time day and night games were on the schedule for the same date.

Sedgman, Segura Knotted For Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Segman, his lame leg on the mend, smothered Tony Trabert Monday night and is now co-holder of the singles lead in the $15,000 Masters Round Robin Pro Tennis Tournament.

After three days, Segman and Pancho Segura have 2-0 records. Segura was idle Monday night as Sedgman overwhelmed Trabert, 6-3, 6-2, and Rex Hartwig downed Lew Hoad, 2-6, 6-3, 9-7.

Hoad, who has yet to win a pro match here, is now 0-3 for the tournament. Hartwig is 1-2, Ken Rosewall 1-0, Pancho Gonzales and Trabert both 1-1.

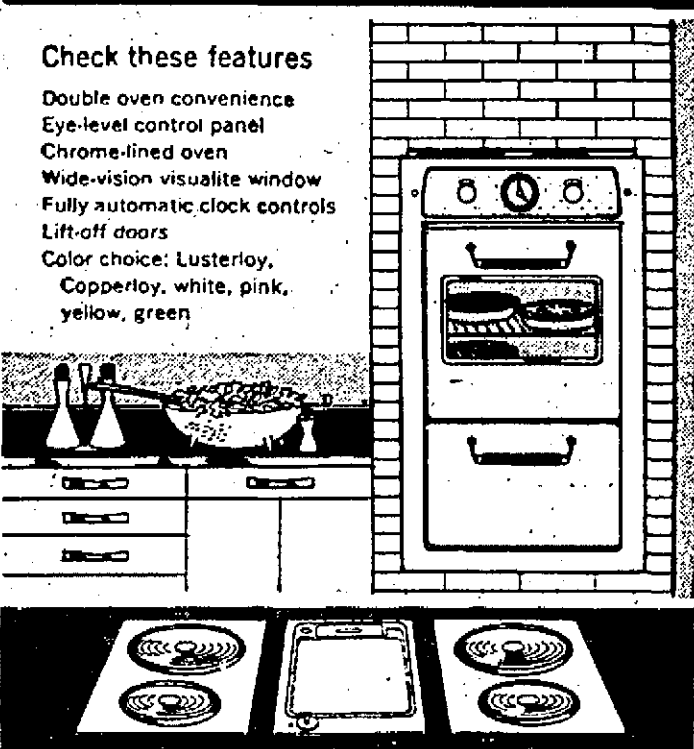

Cincinnati pitcher Bob Purkey is well ahead of his 1956 record with Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League. He completed 3 of 14 starts that year.

Little Jane Schiller gets a big chance today to redeem herself for her second-round blowup in the Women's Invitation Golf Tournament last Friday at the Cumberland Country Club.

The attractive and personable 19-year-old University of Maryland co-ed made the headlines yesterday by shooting a sizzling 74 in the opening round of the 54-hole Middle Atlantic championship at the Congressional Country Club, Washington.

Jane's hot round tied her with Baltimore's celebrated Mary Ann Downey for the tourney lead. Miss Downey was the first to finish and had a chance on a 15-foot putt on the last green to break her own Congressional mark of 73, but the Baltimore Country Club ace three-putted and wound up with 74.

Mary Ann, defending Middle Atlantic champion, who set the course mark two years ago, was out in 38 and back in 36 in a round she characterized as the finest of the year. She missed only five greens in regulation strokes and her only mistake came on the 18th when she boldly went out for a record.

Miss Schiller, who blew a seven-stroke lead to lose the Cumberland title to Mrs. Claude Richards of the Country Club of Maryland, was out in 36 and back in 38. Champion of Salisbury's Green Hill Yacht and Country Club, Jane wasn't aiming for any records. She just wanted to tie Miss Downey and this she did by firing a par four on the last hole.

Barbara Diggs, another 19-year-old youngster, tied for third low at 78 with Mrs. Kenneth of Argyle. Miss Diggs, who plays out of Manor Country Club, was fourth in the local tourney.

Jean Bibby, Cumberland's top woman golfer, got away to a bad start yesterday with an 87. Mrs. Bibby experienced a rough time on the 18th where she took seven strokes. Mrs. Bibby plays today in a twoosome with Mrs. E. C. Ferriday of Chevy Chase who went into the second round tied for fifth place.

Hearings Set Soon On Legal Status Sports

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress may yet decide this summer whether to give pro football, basketball and hockey some of baseball's freedom from the antitrust laws.

The Senate Antitrust subcommittee has decided to open hearings on the legal status of sports soon, probably July 8 or 9.

Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said there was no move in a closed meeting to kill a sports bill passed by the House.

Open Mind Needed
"It was the sense of the subcommittee that we go into this with an open mind to get all the facts and problems," Kefauver said.

Opponents of the House bill have hoped the Senate would put it aside this year. That would mean the House and Senate, now ending the 85th Congress, would have to start all over again next year.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) said last week he would fight the House measure to the limit. Celler heads the House Antitrust subcommittee. He pushed a bill to give antitrust exemptions only to practices found "reasonably necessary" to the sports.

Baseball Wholly Exempt
The House turned this one down for a bill by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) and supported by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), senior Republican on the House subcommittee. This bill would flatly exempt such practices as player drafts, contract options, trades, territorial rights and self-regulation of TV-radio broadcasts.

Ticket sales, concessions and other commercial activities would be governed by antitrust laws.

Baseball is now wholly exempt, as the result of Supreme Court decisions. But the court has held that pro football is wholly covered and implied that no other sport may enjoy baseball's immunity.

W. Virginia PGA Waiting On Snead
CHARLESTON (AP)—The annual West Virginia PGA Golf Tournament will be held at Sistersville this year but no date has been set for the event.

State PGA Secretary Buddy Viar of South Charleston said the tournament date has been held up pending word from Sam Snead, famed White Sulphur Springs professional, as to whether he will be able to compete this year. If Snead decides to enter, the tournament date will be arranged to fit in with his plans.

The tourney plans were discussed at a meeting here by members of the state organization. George Hoffer of Huntington won the 1957 event at Bridgeport.

The West Virginia Open also came up for discussion. Mike Krak, pro at the Lakeview Country Club in Morgantown, said his club had offered its facilities for the open this year, provided the sponsoring West Virginia Golf Assn. gives its approval.

The open had been held under the auspices of the state PGA until last year when the amateur group took it over and staged it at the Berry Hills Country Club here.

Meanwhile, Cresaptown and Frostburg started knotted for the lead, each chalking up its eighth victory in ten starts. Cresaptown spanked Lonaconing 19 to 3 and Frostburg buried Mt. Savage under a 17-1 score.

Gary Clingerman led Cresaptown's 15-hit attack with a triple, double and two singles. Billy Lovett had three singles and Tommy Cecil belted a homer. Ted Wilson had two of the losers' three hits.

Francis Allan tossed a four-hitter at Mt. Savage for Frostburg. Evans led the Frostburg sticklers with three blows while Watkins, Eisler and Evans had two each. Tommy Linn obtained two of the hits yielded by Allan, who struck out five.

LaVale racked up 12 hits, four of which were shared by Jimmy Willets and Evan Smith. The latter cleaned the bases with a double during a five-run rally in the second. Teddy Bennett larded a triple for the victors.

Twain Lowery belted a homer and single and John Cook also had two hits for Ellerslie.

Orioles Host To Yankees In Two-Night Bill Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles open a two-day home stand against the New York Yankees tonight, hoping their new-found attack doesn't sputter against the American League leaders.

A single game tomorrow afternoon will follow tonight's doubleheader. Then Baltimore leaves on a brief road trip to Boston and Washington prior to next Tuesday's All-Star game here.

In Cleveland during the week-end, the Orioles pounded Indian pitching for 26 runs in a surprising sustained batting spree. The Birds are now in seventh place, three games ahead of Washington and just 3 1/2 games behind second place Kansas City.

A crowd of more than 30,000 is expected for the two-night twin bill. Don Larsen (.6-1) and Johnny Kucks (.6-3) are expected to pitch for the Yanks against Hal (Skinny) Brown (1-0) and Jack Harshman (6-6).

For tomorrow's game, Yankee Manager Casey Stengel has nominated rookie Zack Monroe to face Baltimore's Billy O'Dell. Thus the Orioles are not scheduled to face either Whitey Ford or Bob Turley, New York's top winners.

Most of the Orioles had the day off yesterday, but 10 players were drilled by Manager Paul Richards. Catcher Joe Ginsberg was treated for a pulled muscle in his left leg and is expected to be ready for duty soon.

Forty Niners, combining nine safeties with the six-hit pitching of Jimmy O'Neal, won their second game in as many High School Baseball League outings yesterday by defeating the Toy Shop, 8-3, at Taylor Field.

Included in the winner's nine hits were a homer and single by Bruce Smith and a pair of singles by John Mills.

Baldwin was credited with two of Toy Shop's six singles. Henry, who started on the mound for the losers, was tagged with the defeat. He needed help from Nines in the sixth inning when the Forty Niners came across with three runs. Henry struck out six.

Bread Note

It is important that bread be enriched with vitamins and minerals since it supplies a high percentage of the calories of the aged on low budgets.

Next time you bake corn sticks or muffins, sprinkle the batter with grated cheddar cheese before baking.

Salad With Giblets

Chop cooked chicken giblets and add to French dressing. Let stand in refrigerator an hour or more, if there is time. Add torn salad greens and sliced onion or chives, and toss well.

Have you tried caraway seed in creamed onions, or crushed dill seed in cheese dishes?

Try Unusual Dressing On Tasty Salad

The Farm Kitchen at Devils Lake State Park, Baraboo, Wis., is so-called because everything served is made in the spacious one-time farm kitchen.

This Farm Kitchen fulfills your fondest dreams of a real farm dinner in Wisconsin's dairyland, made with the best and freshest available foods.

Along with their mouth-watering abundant meals they serve an unusual grenadine salad and dressing.

Grenadine, a French syrup with a faint red current flavor, brilliant scarlet in color and free from alcoholic content, is used as a sweetening agent.

Pineapple Juice. For a 1½ size ring mold, soak 3 tablespoons gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Dissolve gelatin in 1 cup boiling pineapple juice, let cool.

Add ¼ cup fresh lemon juice, ½ cup fresh orange juice and 1½ cups grenadine syrup to the above and refrigerate. When gelatin is partially congealed add 2 fresh grapefruit cut in sections.

Mold. Grenadine Dressing — Beat 1 egg slightly. Mix 1 tablespoon sugar with ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 2 tablespoons grenadine syrup. Add mixture to egg. Cook in double boiler until thick. When cold fold in ½ cup whipping cream beaten stiff.

Apple-Raisin Coffee Cake Cut In Squares

Squares of apple-raisin coffee cake say a cheery "good morning" to your family.

Mushroom-Rice Filled Peppers

What vegetable to have? Here's a delicious idea! Quick, economical mushroom-rice in tender green peppers! Cook the rice and fill the peppers early in the day. Then at meal time, heat them in the oven to brown the tops.

The rice-mushroom filling is made tasty with sharp cheese. Crushed rice cereal and paprika made a crunchy brown top on each pepper.

Ingredients: 1½ cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup uncooked white rice, 3 to 4 medium to large green peppers, ½ cup grated sharp cheese, ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, 1 3-oz. can chopped broiled mushrooms, drained, ½ cup rice cereal, coarsely crushed, margarine or butter, paprika.

Method: Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat down. Cover with a lid. Simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, remove stems from peppers. Slice in half, lengthwise. Remove seeds and membranes. Cook in salted water about 8 to 10 minutes or until tender. Drain. Place in a shallow baking dish.

When the rice is cooked, stir in the cheese, monosodium glutamate, black pepper and mushrooms. Cut up any large pieces of mushrooms. Firmly stuff the mixture into the peppers. Cool. Cover and store in the refrigerator until meal time. Sprinkle with the cereal crumbs. Dot with the margarine or butter. Sprinkle with the paprika. Allow the dish to come to room temperature. Pour some water around the peppers. Bake in a pre-heated 375° F. oven about 30 minutes or until brown on top and hot through.

This recipe makes 7 to 8 servings.

Rice And Beef In Casserole

Packaged soup mix is a convenient medium for this rice and beef casserole for six.

Cook 1 cup rice in your usual manner. Sauté 1 large diced green pepper and 1 small onion, chopped, in 3 tablespoons butter or margarine until tender. Add ½ pound ground round or chuck beef and continue cooking until browned, stirring occasionally. Stir 1 package tomato-vegetable noodle soup mix and ½ teaspoon salt into 2 cups boiling water, cover and simmer ten minutes.

Combine rice with ground beef mixture. Add soup and ½ cup diced pimiento. Mix thoroughly. Pour into 1½ quart greased casserole. Sprinkle with ¼ cup dry bread crumbs and dot with 1 tablespoon butter.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for twenty minutes.

Fruit Fluff Made From Egg Whites

Heap this pretty fruit fluff in paper cups for a youngster's back yard party.

Beat egg whites, gradually adding 1 tablespoon sugar for each egg white. Whip until stiff and gently fold in colorful pieces of very well-drained canned fruit cocktail. Spoon into cups and serve at once.

Custard Sauce Adds An Engaging Note

Custard sauce, gentle, sweet and friendly, adds an engaging note to the looks and dispositions of many diverse desserts.

Evaporated milk and vanilla pudding produce a successful custard sauce in short order—flavor it to your taste and serve it warm or cold.

Fill Orange With Fruit

Turn the tables on the weatherman this summer with cool-off salads.

A refreshing appetizer salad, or dessert is a Fruit-filled Orange. Slice the top from large oranges.

Cut out the orange sections and mix with slices of ripe plum, circles of banana, and other fruits of the season. Refill the orange shells, piling the fruits high. Add a jaunty flag of mint.

Top each Fruit-filled Orange off with a generous serving of Honeyberry Dressing: Beat ½ cup canned jellied cranberry sauce till smooth. Stir in ¼ cup honey and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Makes ¾ cup dressing.

Do's and don'ts of egg buying: don't pay extra for the color of an egg shell; do pay for freshness, which means buying those eggs displayed in refrigerated cases.

To prevent marks of the cake rack when cooling your loaf or layer cake, invert the cake onto the rack and then immediately turn it back again (with another rack) so it is topside up.

A pretty and tasty trick with cauliflower: spike the cooked head with almonds, top with cheese sauce, and arrange on serving dish with green peas or beans.

Darryl Zanuck Toiling In Paris

By VERNON SCOTT
PARIS—(UPI)—There was a time when Darryl F. Zanuck, movie mogul extraordinaire, merely pushed a button in his palatial Hollywood office and things happened, wheels turned, mountains moved. But in Paris, Mr. Z. is a working stiff who perspires with the troops.

In the wild confusion of the studio de Boulogne the mustachioed Zanuck has adjusted himself to the rigors of movie-making, French style.

The studio is small and cluttered. There are no guards at the gates, allowing indigent Frenchmen to wander in and out at random, tracking mud into the sound stages.

Because sex bomb Brigitte Bardot is working in an adjoining sound stage, traffic is heavy. "I can get used to anything after 11 weeks of location shooting in Africa," Zanuck said over a beaker of excellent French wine. It was noon, and the day's filming had not yet begun.

"We're supposed to work from noon until 7 p.m. But it doesn't always work out that way. The crew is English, French and Italian, which makes for multilingual chaos."

The producer was interrupted by a crew member who wanted to know the status of Mr. Zanuck's health. In the old days in Hollywood it took an act of Congress to reach the omnipotent executive.

"I'm fine," Zanuck said. "But my leading lady, Juliette Greco, has been terribly ill and we're doing our best to shoot around her scenes until she recovers."

"Juliette became sick in Africa and hasn't been the same since," Zanuck has invested more than three million dollars in "Roots of Heaven" for 20th Century-Fox and is anxious to complete the picture. His Gallic employees, however, cannot be rushed.

"You have to adhere to the customs in this part of the world," Zanuck said patiently. "There's no push-button magic here."

"We made the same adjustments in French Equatorial Africa. I guess I could have shot the location footage in Mexico, but we would never have captured the grandeur we found in Africa. Besides, the natives play such an important part in the picture we never could have substituted for them."

ANOTHER CASTRO — Raul Castro, above, younger brother of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro, reportedly led the raid which bagged the first of some 40-odd Americans kidnapped by rebel forces within a few days. He's shown in a rebel stronghold somewhere in the Sierra Maestra mountains.

New Jersey was the only northern state not to abolish slavery before 1850. It had 236 negroes in bondage that year.

Pat Wayne Thinks Youngsters Are About Same

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Are today's juveniles any more delinquent than previous generations? Pat Wayne doesn't think so.

Pat is the husky, handsome, 18-year-old son of John Wayne, and a teen-age idol in his own right. No hothouse Hollywood kid is he. Pat has been reared in a normal Los Angeles neighborhood by his mother, long divorced from the actor.

Commenting on his contemporaries, Pat opined: "If a kid is left to himself, he'd never get into trouble. It's only when you get with a bunch of other fellows that you start smoking and cutting up."

Then each one tries to outdo the other, and sometimes there is real trouble.

"But I don't think this generation is any different from other ones. We all do some crazy things. Like sneaking into theaters."

This struck a responsive chord. As a lad, I sneaked into the same movie houses. Even got caught once.

"I only got caught once," Pat remarked. "That was when we sneaked into the Pan-Pacific to see the Harlem Globetrotters play basketball. One of our buddies got caught, so we all gave ourselves up. The police took us away, but then they let us go."

Pat added that such experiences have made him more conservative. He realizes that the fact he is John Wayne's son could provide headlines from even a minor brush with the law.

"Pat was asked if he thought rock 'n' roll contributed to delinquency.

"Some of it is pretty wild," he commented. "I can see how listening to such music might fan the flames and help send a bunch of kids into trouble. But I don't think rock 'n' roll is the cause." (Continued on Page 22)

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For 1958, starting July 1, 1958:

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries): Don't look for "easy going," quick returns. With several planets insubordinately positioned, you may not have all the help or inspiration you wish. However, your own initiative and perseverance are your solution.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus): Use sensible precautions in all hazardous activities and difficult situations. Maintain your usual calm and you can turn the day into a profitable though, perhaps, not an exciting one.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini): Similar. Taurus now. You may not be as mentally keen as usual but don't give up in anything. Exercise patience and courtesy even though others may be uncooperative.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer): You may have to be satisfied with less than you anticipate but if you keep up to schedule, you will do well on the whole.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo): Your sun is the only planet now favorably aspected. You are in a position to be helpful to others and better your own status in the doing. Maintain your sense of humor, avoid contention.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo): Stay with a well arranged program but don't go to extremes. Conserve time, energy, with discipline. Vibrations from the sun can be helpful all day. Good management important.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra): Similar to Taurus and Virgo. Much can be accomplished and you can gain new knowledge if you apply yourself patiently and smartly. As you usually do. However, issues, use intelligent persuasion.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio): If you stop, look and listen, you will not say or do some of the things you might without this precaution. Use logic; heed inhibition. Showy gains, not indicated, but sincere effort will pay.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius): Ambition, independence and industriousness (some of your attributes) are stimulated now, and if you apply them rightly (not selfishly) you can expect satisfactory results—now or later.

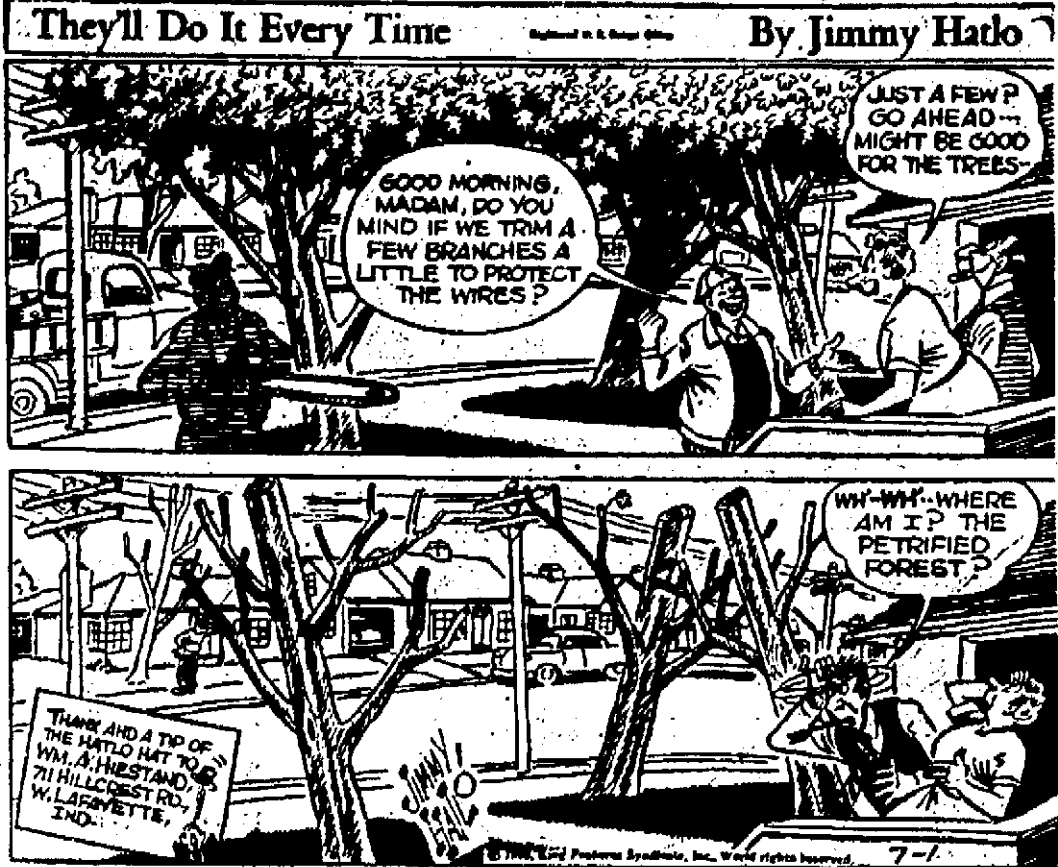

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn): Day calls for extra alertness, keen judgment, patience, too. Remember, however, that no earnest, conscientious efforts are ever wasted.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius): Give proper ratings to day's FIRSTS, then handle them with good judgment. Avoid extremes, but be prepared for quick action, if necessary.

FEBRUARY 22 to MARCH 21 (Pisces): You can gain most now through application of advice to both Aquarius and Capricorn. Be most careful in water sports, handling, confidential matters, also using liquids, chemicals, etc.

YOU BORN TODAY are kindly, courteous and thoughtful to old and young alike. People go to you for sympathy and aid and you seldom fail them. You may tend to worry needlessly. Don't anticipate trouble. You have an abundance of talent and ability. Use all your gifts and you will get the most from them if you keep cheerful, ambitious and free from worry. You can accomplish a great deal in a profession—especially in medicine, acting or the law.

Library Seeks Overdue Books

This is "Forgiveness Month" at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, announced today that through the month of July, all overdue books of the library will be accepted with no questions asked. There will be no fine imposed for overdue books.

About five years ago the library started the plan and each year has done very well in getting overdue books back on the shelf.

Miss Walsh urges persons with overdue books to take advantage of forgiveness month. She said the library will have a three-day holiday over the Fourth of July. It will be closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

A 110-page premium list has been compiled, showing annual exhibits will include agricultural, livestock, poultry, ceramics, antiques, pet stock, flowers, art and soil conservation.

Fair Association officials announce the tentative program which will be held on the midway. There will be five nights of fireworks, Tuesday through Saturday.

The June permits included eight for new construction jobs estimated to cost $59,800 and 12 additions and improvements totaling $11,934.

Included were eight residences with a total value of $59,300; four additions to residences, $3,014; three improvements to residences, $619; two additions to businesses, $1,300; two improvements to business, $5,500, and a $1,500 improvement to a business establishment.

Local Milk Cooperative Bought

The Queen City Co-Operative Dairy Inc., 310 South Mechanic Street, has purchased property at 416 Pennsylvania Avenue from Co-Operative Milk Service Inc.

The one-story modern building will continue to be used as an active receiving station by the local firm. The Co-Operative Milk Service is reported to have decided to ship milk directly from nearby Pennsylvania dairymen to Washington and discontinue the local receiving station.

A deed recorded in the land office of Allegany County Court yesterday indicated the property was sold for about $26,500.

The same property was formerly operated by the Embassy Dairy Inc. The property was conveyed by Lillian F. Ward and her husband and the dairy to the Co-Operative Milk Service on April 21, 1948.

In other deeds filed yesterday, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company has sold lots in the Horse Rock Hill Subdivision in Westernport to William M. Thompson and his wife Mabel
